TREE PLANTATION

Tree plantation is crucial because trees act as natural air purifiers, absorbing carbon dioxide and releasing oxygen, thus combating climate change, providing habitats for wildlife, preventing soil erosion, regulating water cycles, and improving air quality, especially in urban areas where pollution is high; essentially contributing to a healthier planet and ecosystem.

The land was used to reward loyal servants of the Crown. Queen Mary hoped it would ease the cost of running Ireland. That the armed settlers would control the Natives. That towns and villages would act as “beacons of civilisation” and calm the Irish.
